Columbia College Chicago Community:

Please be aware that new access control procedures will be implemented at two additional campus locations effective the first week of June, 2016.

First, a Columbia College Chicago identification card will be required to access the Library at 624 S. Michigan Avenue. Columbia College Chicago participates in the Consortium of Academic and Research Libraries in Illinois (CARLI). Visitors from CARLI institutions will be granted access upon presentation of their respective institution's identification cards.

Second, the building owner at 1006 S. Michigan is implementing a new access control system. Faculty, students and staff having business in this building will have their identification cards pre-programmed to access this location. Anyone experiencing technical difficulties entering this building should contact Security Command via the non-emergency telephone number at 312-369-3220.
